Globalization and the Environment: A Project-Based Approach

June 26\textsuperscript{th}-28\textsuperscript{th}, 2018
9:00am - 3:00pm
Location: UC Irvine

This program, offered with support from the Ten Strands, will allow secondary history teachers to learn more about globalization through an environmental history approach. Teachers will have the opportunity to develop a culminating project-based unit for their students on the topic of globalization. To engage in this topic, teachers will learn from historians of globalization, consider current issues, and work together to create and implement an inquiry-based project. This workshop will be hands-on and will support inquiry and creativity through a technology-based approach.
